Bonds Defined

- Bonds are, at their basis, loans given to either a government or to a corporation.
 - Bonds have three basic components:
 - The Par Value
 - This is the amount that the purchaser pays for the bond, and that will be repaid by the issuer when the bond matures.
This can also be referred to as the Principle invested or the Face Value of the investment.
 - The Maturity
 - This is the length of time before the bond is repaid by the issuer.
 - The Coupon Rate
 - This is the interest rate that will be paid by the issuer to the purchaser of the bond.
 - This can be different than the Yield on the bond, which is the annual rate of return on the bond if it were held to maturity.
